Alvand Trading Company, has had a significant cooperation in the field of export, with the cooperation of most gardeners and farmers. It offers first-class, hand-picked and sorted products in the form of wholesale with the highest quality and lowest price, provides a direct shopping in the region. This company has attracted maximum satisfaction of costumers by producing organic and high-quality products and is known as one of the largest companies in the production and export of agricultural products in the Middle East. The company's products include a variety of apples and kiwis in various packages and they can be offered and sold according to the customer's order and needs.

Business description

Apples and kiwis are among the garden products that are constantly increasing in production. These fruits are more resistant to cold than other citrus fruits and their yield is higher. Presently, the amount of waste from these fruits, which is due to pests and diseases, weather conditions, poor management, poor transportation system and cold storage, is very low and insignificant. China is known as the largest producer of these products with 2.390.000 thousand tons of kiwi and 44 million tons of apples. Alvand kiwi and apple orchards are in good condition. Good quality, standard size, diversity, specialized packaging and reasonable prices are the most important specifications of Alvand products, so the production and export of this product will be more than before and countries such as Russia, Georgia, India, Iraq, Turkey, UAE, etc. are important destinations for Alvand apples and kiwis.
